

Hybrid work statistics to power your business policies

Strategic importance of hybrid work

60%

Hybrid work is strategic

35%

Hybrid work is nice-to-have

5%

Hybrid work is not important

Remote desktop adoption rates for hybrid workers

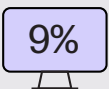

reported that over 50% of their staff actively use remote desktops.

said remote desktops were in use for less than 50% of staff were either looking into implementation, or already trialing it reported no interest in the technology

Challenges experienced with implementing or managing remote desktops

59%

Performance/user experience issues

34%

Cumbersome maintenance or management

32%

Difficult implementation process

25%

Staff adoption of the technology

17%

Internal buy-in during evaluation

Benefits companies have gained from enabling hybrid work during the pandemic

54%

Employee satisfaction/retention

57%

Increased productivity/flexibility

53%

Business continuity

30%

Hiring/recruiting

39%

Operational efficiencies/cost

How have your company's policies changed to incorporate hybrid work?

44%

We've made small changes to existing policies to allow hybrid work

12%

We plan to adopt hybrid work policies but haven't yet

41%

We have fully embraced hybrid work and have adopted new policies

3%

We don't plan to allow hybrid work

Download the whitepaper to learn more
reinvent.hp.com/hybrid-work-report-2022

4AAB-2764-ENW